on April 14, 1993.

The Coffee County Commission voted Monday to call an election of all county voters. They are hoping for approval of a property tax to build a new courthouse in Enterprise. Workers in the Enterprise courthouse shouldn't start packing for the move...not just yet! First a special bill must be advertised for the next four weeks; then this bill must get through the Alabama legislature, itself no small feat, especially at this late date; after getting through both the House and the Senate the approved bill must be signed by the governor; then the sheriff must call an election; next is the largest obstacle of all...the voters. Fifty percent plus one of those easting votes must approve the tax for it to become a reality. Our predictions are

Before the ink was dry from the printing of last week's Elba Clipper, and our story explaining why the Freddie Hanchey hearings are required, we had a copy of a letter Mayor Ricky Haywood wrote saying he would call no more hearings. Where this leaves things, someone else must decide. Our legal books don't cover such situations, at least not on the pages with the pictures! We got an update Tuesday afternoon from City Clerk Jeff Goodson. The hearing will continue, but we must wait until next week to write about the proceedings which began Wednesday (yesterday) at 9 a.m.

The court ruling that Alabama school funding didn't provide an adequate and equitable funded education for all children wasn't a surprise. Almost anyone with knowledge of the situation had been warning the public to expect exactly what happened. This will be that golden opportunity for lawmakers to add some more taxes on Alabama citizens ..." to make things equitable." We have a problem with that. Why not just reshuffle the funds already being collected, add them to more local funding where needed and stop hiding behind the judges! Our schools were not in the lawsuit. School officials explained area schools were about midway between the haves and havenots. But when the Alabama Legislature is finished, everyone will definitely be paying more school taxes.

W.A.C.O., Texas. The impasse between the cult and the FBI is not moving either way. There are very few knowledgeable people predicting just when this will end. For the last couple of weeks informed people have been explaining the meaning of Waco to anyone who would listen. Apparently they are right. According to inside, very confidential information, the name Waco stands for We Ain't Coming Out!

At this writing, the U. S. Congress is deadlocked over President Clinton's JOBS plan. The Republicans are determined to block the plan as presented and the Democrats are just as determined to pass the plan as presented. Neither has the votes to do anything but butt heads. Hopefully the reports that leaders of both parties are working behind the scene to work out a compromise is fact. The ultimate plan approved may please no one, but it will allow lawmakers to move on to other matters.

It was a real movie plot, the victim was killed when shot with a pistol firing blanks. Actor Brandon Lee, age 32, died last Wednesday when he was shot in the abdomen with a "blank". Authorities have not released details of the death but many detective movies have been written with this exact plot. The difference is this one is for real and a talented actor is dead.

Lingerie Shower Given In Honor Of Miss Tiffany Harper

Miss Tiffany Harper, bride-elect Mr. Stephen Robert Blount was entertained with a lingerie shower on Saturday, March 27, in the lovely home of Mrs. John Robert Smith. As they arrived, Tiffany and her guests were welcomed by a front entrance adorned with a wedding lace wreath, accented with a bell and royal blue satin ribbon. The foyer was aglow with a dozen long stemmed red roses. Three large wedding bells joined with a Magnolia, enhanced the entry hall.

Guests were invited into the spacious great room which was enhanced with more wedding bells and A delicious dessert plate of Creme de Menthe pie and nuts was served. Fruit punch garnished with a cherry and pineapple spear completed the refreshments. Each guest received a miniature garter which was also used as a napkin ring.

Builder Larry Williams talks about the benefits of Good Cents construction. ■ Electric Cooperative member Larry Williams builds homes for a living. And he's always believed in the advantages of building within Good Cents guidelines. "Any additional cost to include Good Cents features in a home is well worth it," says Williams. That's because Good Cents features make a home more energy-efficient. That means lower energy costs every month. And research has shown that Good Cents homes sell faster because of the energy savings they offer. ■ Not only does Larry Williams build Good Cents home for other families, he built his own home with Good Cents features, including an energy-efficient electric heat pump. "I believe strongly in the benefits of the heat pump. I put one in my house and I always recommend them for use in the homes I build."

The AEA holidays are a time that the kids get to visit relatives, sleep late and do some things they usually don't get to do during the school year. The holidays ended on a routine note for the Mularz girls as both Melissa and Melanie got to enjoy their time off. Melissa spent three nights with her aunt n Wicksburg and during her stay found over 100 eggs in an Easter Egg hunt in Dothan, and also won a coloring contest at the mall. Melanie stayed with Mom and Dad, but spent lots of time with her one-year-old cousin and even got to sleep with Mom and Dad for three straight nights. Maybe the week off will help'em make it through the final eight weeks of school.

ELBA TIGERS NEED TO PICK UP THE PACE IN BASEBALL

The Elba Tigers baseball team is heading down the homestretch and with a 3-5 record, it isn't hard to figure out that the Tigers need to pick up the pace if they hope to keep up their tradition of winning the area and making

The Tigers were expected to field a solid team this season and seemed to be an experienced team with returning starters back in pitchers Joe Donaldson, Cory Driggers and Keith Grantham, as well as catcher Kevin Bryan, first-baseman Lance McCollough and outfielder Vincent Thigpen. The veterans were looked upon to be leaders both on and off the field; however, while the play of the vets has been solid at times, it hasn't been consistent, and the leadership off the field has not been as evident as has been obvious-

The Tigers are a team that is made up of winners and they have the talent to be winners this season in baseball. When the players get together and decide that they are willing to do what it takes to win, the wins will come. It the players are satisfied with just showing up and playing, the dominance o the Tigers could be over. Only time, and leadership, will tell the final chap-

This year's summer program will include approximately 30 teams during the regular season and eight All-Star teams that will represent the city in postseason play. That totals 38 teams, or 570 players, not to mention 90 coaches and countless supporters. Yep, summer is right around the corner, and in spite of daylight savings, there won't be enough hours in the day.
